Performance and Accountability

District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments. The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75.

¹ NAEP is often called the "Nation's Report Card." It is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education. This table compares Connecticut's performance to that of national public school students. Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. Next Generation Accountability Results

Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a district/school is preparing its students for success in college, careers, and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates to provide a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance.

Narratives

During the 2020-2021 school year, E.O. Smith made significant progress in developing and implementing programs and projects designed to reduce racial, ethnic and economic isolation. This included:

- *Implemented a minority recruitment process that has demonstrated effectiveness in diversifying the staff.

- *Implemented a theory of action that focused on monitoring the participation, performance and experiences of all students by demographic group (race, gender, IEP/504, SES, town).

- *Created a common criterion for all 8th grade school counselors to use in course recommendations for students.

- *Instituted grading flexibilities for students such as re-assessment and the elimination the use of academic consequences for behavioral decisions.

- *Adopted a Region 19 Equity Protocol to use for all decisions relating to policy and everyday practice.

- *Implemented of a PSAT for grade 9, and 10 students to ensure equal access to the SAT preparation assessment.

- *Revised criteria for entry in national honor society membership that were excluding specific student groups.

- *Removed grade pre-requisites as criteria for admission to advanced courses.

- *Created a board of education sub-committee: Equity, Justice and Inclusion to revise curriculum to be more culturally responsive and inclusive, revise hiring practices to diversify the staff, audit practices and policies to promote participation and advancement of marginalized students.

- *Held several community deliberation forums on social justice topics to collect ways to address social issues in our school community.
