Performance and Accountability

District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments. The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75.

Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. Next Generation Accountability Results

Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a district/school is preparing its students for success in college, careers, and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates to provide a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance.

Narratives

School District Improvement Plans and Parental Outreach Activities

The 2022-23 school year has been rewarding as well as challenging. Our students needed additional social and emotional support because being home during COVID has continued to impact the students. Given all of the challenges, IDCS continues to put children first and to work conscientiously, diligently, and effectively for all of our children and families.

SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS: The Special Education Coordinator oversees and coordinates the Student Support Team (tiered intervention), 504s, and PPTs.

Also, the coordinator leads the school team, which includes 2.5 full time special education teachers/case managers, a speech pathologist and assistant speech pathologist, a full time counselor, and 4 special education paras. This group has been very effective in serving the students and parents of special education students as well as students who need 504 plans and/or students who need interventions to be successful. The coordinator works closely with the Norwich Public Schools' Special Education Liaison. The communication between IDCS and parents of special needs students is effective, efficient, clear, and timely.

TRUANCY: IDCS has a protocol in place for the social worker to contact families on a weekly basis and to provide support to families. Our attendance has improved since the 2021-22 school year.

ENGAGING FAMILIES: The School-Family-Community connections, is one of our core tenets. During the 2022-23 school year, a Family Liaison (FL) was hired to increase parental involvement in schools. The FL created a brochure for parent involvement in the school; created a survey for parents to volunteer; and met parents during the student led conferences to encourage them to volunteer. The Director and teachers communicate with families via email, voicemail and school messenger, monthly zoom meetings to update parents; weekly newsletters; teachers' newsletters, student led conferences, and administrator or teacher contact with parents. The Director held monthly zoom meetings for parents. Parent involvement and attendance at IDCS events increase exponentially.

The parents coordinated picture day and the book fair, assisted at BreadFeast and Caring and Sharing and the Annual Picnic. Attendance at our basketball games, track, and cross country teams increased since the previous school year. Parents attend the 2nd/3rd grade play, Elephant's Child and raised funds to support clean water access in Africa. Our second 25 years has started off very well! .

Efforts to Reduce Racial, Ethnic and Economic Isolation

IDCS is an integrated school due to its lottery system and to Norwich's community demographics. IDCS' demographics include 51% female, 49% 1% American Indian, 14% Asian, 12% Black, 17% Latinx, 11% two or more races; and 46% White. The students have friendships across various racial groups, ethnic, age, gender, and socioeconomic status groups. IDCS atmosphere supports these relationships via lunch time. The classrooms are assigned to a POD, which consists of K/1, 2/3, 4/5, 6, and 7/8 classes. In the lunch room, 2 students from each grade level sit in groups of 8. This supports students getting to know students across age levels. IDCS has a learning buddy program; all students are assigned a learning buddy at least 2 grades above or 2 grades below; recesses are scheduled for at least 3 classes at one time. IDCS' student council is very active in the school in supporting and cultivating relationships across various groups. The classroom makeup ensures that there is diversity in each classroom. There are friendship groups across all races and ethnicities. This can be seen on our sports teams, recess, learning buddies, events, and everyday classroom interactions.

Critical pedagogy is a core tenet at IDCS; IDCS curriculum includes a social justice unit at each grade level. IDCS students have participated and spoken at the Norwich NAACP MLK Jr. Luncheon. IDCS has celebrated Indigenous People's day for at least 6 years. Reading books are chosen to ensure students read about different races and ethnicities in the US.

During this school year 2022-23 school year, IDCS' Climate Committee has focused on diversity, acceptance, and respect among students and staff. IDCS core mission is integration of subjects; however, integration occurs across our diverse groups.

Equitable Allocation of Resources among District Schools

Because IDCS is a single school/system, the equitable allocation of resources occurs automatically. Funds and support is allocated equitably across subjects and grade levels.
