Performance and Accountability

District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments. The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75.

¹ NAEP is often called the "Nation's Report Card." It is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education. This table compares Connecticut's performance to that of national public school students. Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. The health-related fitness scores gathered through the CPFA should be used to educate and motivate children and their families to increase physical activity and develop lifetime fitness habits.

³Only students assessed in all four areas are included in this calculation.

Next Generation Accountability Results

Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a district/school is preparing its students for success in college, careers, and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates to provide a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance.

Narratives

School District Improvement Plans and Parental Outreach Activities

Sherman School continues to develop a strong focus on chronic absenteeism prevention in 2023-24. Monthly attendance team meetings carefully monitored student absences as well as tardies and early dismissals. Using grant funding, the addition of a School Social Worker was key to assisting these efforts. Using data to drive decisions, letters, phone calls and family meetings have been held to assist with improvement. As a result of these efforts, student chronic absenteeism has been reduced. The attendance committee continues to refine its efforts.

Creating community connections continues to be a focus of Sherman's Strategic Plan. Working with the Senior Center, opportunities for cross-generational activities have been established to bring seniors into the school for enrichment. Connections with the local historical society, families, and town leaders through events continue to model the importance of community involvement.

Sherman School implemented a pilot flex program called STRIVE in our middle school in 2023-2024. It was born out of the need to develop a program to support students who have more intensive social-emotional and academic needs. This program will continue to be refined as we look at individual students who best benefit from it in the coming year.

Efforts to Reduce Racial, Ethnic and Economic Isolation

Administration has recognized the need for outside support and assistance for some of our Sherman families. During the 2023-2024 school year a School Social Worker was hired using grant funding who operated as a liaison between our students and their families and town/community social services. The addition of a SW contributed greatly to many aspects of our related services efforts, including counseling and social-emotional support of our school community.
