Performance and Accountability

District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments. The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75.

This table compares Connecticut's performance to that of national public school students. Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. ### Next Generation Accountability Results

Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a district/school is preparing its students for success in college, careers, and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates to provide a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance.

Watertown School District

Narratives

Watertown Public Schools ascribes to the Restorative Practice Model, which emphasizes building strong relationships, fostering a positive school climate, and addressing conflicts through open communication and problem-solving. Rather than implementing a standalone social and emotional learning (SEL) curriculum, the district takes an integrated approach, grounded in restorative practices, working toward its vision of a graduate through a comprehensive and holistic strategy.

Across the district, administrators and teachers participate in professional learning opportunities focused on improving instructional strategies to meet the diverse needs of all learners. The formation of school improvement teams, which examine performance data relative to various subgroups, is key to reducing racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic isolation.

At Watertown High School, English Language Arts and Social Studies courses explore topics such as ethnicity, the Holocaust, and the Civil Rights Movement, using literature and primary source documents to foster cultural understanding. World Language classes emphasize cultural immersion through activities and the establishment of pen pals with students in other nations. The student-led Delta Club promotes improved school climate and acceptance of others, supporting efforts like "The Truth About Hate" from the Anti-Defamation League and "Rachel's Challenge." The Interact Club reaches out to the greater community through work in soup kitchens and community service for the elderly.

Swift Middle School continues to offer interdisciplinary lessons that highlight diverse cultural backgrounds, and many school clubs reinforce cultural diversity in their activities. World Cultures activities support efforts to bridge the cultures of the world through understanding. Swift's developmental guidance and health curriculum programs emphasize a strong anti-bullying message and encourage respect and kindness.

At the elementary schools, diversity and tolerance are emphasized in numerous ways. Students conduct various fundraisers to support people in need, and interdisciplinary programs involving music, art, physical education, and classroom teachers are held throughout the year to promote cultural awareness and appreciation.

Equitable Allocation of Resources among District Schools

Watertown Public Schools uses zero-based budgeting to allocate resources equitably across all schools, including Title I schools. An annual needs evaluation, based on student growth and achievement data, guides the judicious expenditure of funds. The inclusive and transparent budget process involves input from community members, faculty, staff, and administrators. Administrators identify program needs, requests are reviewed by Central Office leaders and the Board of Education Budget Committee, and presentations are made to solicit stakeholder feedback. If budget reductions are necessary, administrators prioritize requests to minimize impact. Budget reports reflect school-based allocations, ensuring equity in resource distribution.
