District Performance Index (DPI)

A District Performance Index (DPI) is the average performance of students in a subject area (i.e., ELA, Mathematics or Science) on the state summative assessments. The DPI ranges from 0-100. A DPI is reported for all students tested in a district and for students in each individual student group. Connecticut's ultimate target for a DPI is 75.

Performance standards for state assessments and NAEP are set independently. Therefore, one should not expect performance results to be the same across Smarter Balanced and NAEP. Instead, NAEP results are meant to complement other state assessment data. To view performance on NAEP by student group, at

Next Generation Accountability Results

Connecticut's Next Generation Accountability System is a broad set of 12 indicators that help tell the story of how well a district/school is preparing its students for success in college, careers, and life. It moves beyond test scores and graduation rates to provide a more holistic, multifactor perspective of district and school performance.

Narratives

MINORITY RECRUITMENT.Odyssey Community School is a workplace that emphasizes a genuine interest and concern for all its employees, and strives to build a learning community where everyone's talents are celebrated and valued. We remain committed to hiring high quality staff members who are dedicated to learning and growing together and who demonstrate an interest and concern for others. We also remain committed to hiring a workforce that resembles our student body as a whole. Currently, Odyssey's student body is 60% minority with 14 different languages spoken in our students' homes, while our staff population consists of fewer than 10% minority members. Embracing a significantly more diverse workforce that reflects the racial, ethnic and linguistic diversity of our students, and hiring educators who have inherent connections with our students is paramount to enriching and sustaining our diverse community of learners.

The Capitol Region Education Council (CREC), and several other Hartford area districts have piloted the Connecticut Teacher Residency Program (CTTRP) beginning in 2019, with the prior approval from the Connecticut State Department of Education and the spirited endorsement of then Commissioner (now Secretary of Education), Miguel Cardona. As noted by the CSDE, CTTRP is a unique method of recruiting, training, certifying, and retaining elementary teachers of color, and an application process for its third cohort of teacher residents has begun. Training these residents begins in June of 2022 and continues throughout the 2022-2023 school year including the summers of 2022 and 2023. Odyssey Community School is the first committed charter school to embrace this initiative as we work to place a new resident in grade 3 for the 2022-2023 school year.

Three of our teacher leaders have participated in intensive training on diversity, equity, and inclusion through our regional education consortium (CREC). During 2022-2023 school year, this team of dedicated teachers will work with the entire staff and OCS families to support our Anti-Racism Team and strengthen equitable learning opportunities for all our students.

Equitable Allocation of Resources among District Schools

As a single local charter school, we work diligently with the Connecticut Charter School Association who support us in our efforts to seek equitable State of Connecticut funding for Odyssey Community School. Most recently, we have added 36 seats for a brand new preschool program for 3 and 4 year-olds. We are able to provide quality instructional and technological resources for every teacher, every classroom, and every student. We have received numerous grant funded projects from The Peter and Carmen Lucia Buck Foundation (PCLB). PCLB continues to support projects for the 2022-2023 school year including funding for teacher and staff professional learning, new curriculum updates, new program enhancements including the introduction of world language, and the addition of behavioral health supports for our students.
